Subject: Inviting Expression of Interest (EOI) for undertaking documentation of life profiles of Eminent Vaidya of your region under the proposed CCRAS IMR Project 'Admirable Personalities to Transform Ayurveda (APTA)' – reg.

Madam/Sir,

The system of Ayurveda has survived the test of time and is flourishing and gaining global recognition. The acknowledgment of the role of the various eminent personalities in preserving and promoting this knowledge needs to be properly documented for the benefit of society. With this objective, the Council intends to systematically document the biographies of luminaries in the field of Ayurveda throughout the country and bring them out into the public domain in the form of research publications. The research work will be carried out in continuation of the phase 2 of the ongoing project. Under the project documentation of 176 luminaries have been completed (Annexure-I).

In this regard, expression of interest is invited from Research Officers of CCRAS, Technical Officers, Practitioners, Faculties, Scholars and PhD Scholars of Ayurveda/other disciplines latest by 30-09-2026. The name of the luminary may preferably be selected from the suggested list of luminaries arranged state-wise (Annexure-II). However, if any other eminent luminary in the field of Ayurveda from any part of the country, not included in Annexure-II, is considered worthy of documentation, his/her name may also be proposed with appropriate justification. The willingness may be conveyed in the format below (Annexure – III), along with an initial draft of the suggested luminary's life profile, not less than 1500 words.

EOIs, along with the initial drafts received, would be carefully evaluated at CCRAS, and the eligible researchers would be allotted the documentation work.

The expected outcome of the documentation would be a research paper in an indexed journal/UGC-approved journal /a chapter in a book/a write-up published on the dedicated portal of CCRAS.

The Terms of Reference for undertaking the documentation will be as follows:

- Faculties in various Ayurveda teaching institutes, Practitioners, PG Scholars and PhD Scholars can furnish EOI in this regard.
- In an instance where PG scholars / PhD scholars are taking up the work, the EOI shall be counter-signed by the Head of the institute.
- EOI may be submitted along with the details of the luminary intended to be documented in the prescribed format.
- A researcher may submit EOI for single luminary at an instance.
- Under EOI, the suggestions of Historical personalities will be prioritized based on their significant contributions. Life profiles on individuals who are alive is usually discouraged.
- The EOIs (applications) will be evaluated at CCRAS Headquarters, and the eligible researchers may be duly intimated.
- Each assigned EOI will be given a unique registration ID for further reference.
- All eligible candidates shall abide by the undertaking submitted along with the Expression of Interest and shall be equally responsible for the timely completion of the work of documentation and publication of the life profile of that luminary.
- It is mandatory for all researchers to attend the sensitization program, which will be held post allotment.
- A separate tracker sheet (online spreadsheet) for tracking the progress of the work will be developed later on, which needs to be updated on a time-to-time basis.
- The documentation is to be done with the help of a semi-structured questionnaire. Any additional information may also be documented. However, it is to be borne in mind that the final outcome of the documentation would be a research paper or a book chapter on the life and contributions of that luminary.
- Audio/Video recording of the interview may be kept if required for further reference while drafting of the research paper.
- The researchers may complete the documentation process well within intimated deadlines.
- Supporting letters may be issued by the CCRAS institutes of the respective states when it is deemed necessary to contact the informants of luminaries.
- Researcher(s) who are documenting the information will be the principal author(s) of the research paper drafted on that luminary subject to their role in carrying out the documentation work and the drafting of the research paper. While submitting the draft, role of each researcher in documenting the information (in case more than one researcher is involved) and drafting the research paper may be clearly mentioned with a duly signed statement. When more than one researcher is involved, the order of authorship may be mutually decided and may be informed to CCRAS headquarters. The final draft of the papers is to be submitted to journals only after due approval from the CCRAS, Hqrs.
- CCRAS will only give technical assistance during data collection and no financial assistance will be given.
- Researchers who submit high-quality final drafts will be awarded a Certificate of Appreciation, along with a suitable honorarium. The evaluation and selection process will be under the jurisdiction of the evaluation committee formed at the CCRAS Headquarters.
- The final drafts, meeting the quality standards as per the council will be considered for publication in indexed journals.

The names proposed for nomination may be selected, excluding those already nominated or published in indexed journals, to prevent duplication. For ready reference, the link to the CCRAS publication has been attached along with the draft form for furnishing EOI, along with a list of allotted luminaries (Annexure I).

For Director General

Guidelines for choosing/identifying the luminaries.

1. Preferably, the researcher may furnish EOI for a single luminary.
2. Preference will be given to the names published in the list attached.
3. Life profiles on luminaries who are alive are usually discouraged.
3. Suggestions of the names documented in the first and second phases of the project may kindly be avoided. The list of the life profiles attempted in the first phase and second Phase is attached for reference.
4. EOIs submitted along with draft articles of not less than 1,500 words will only be considered for evaluation.
